

Departmental Lab

The departmental computer laboratory is accessible to students. It has advanced infrastructure in terms of hardware and software which caters to the requirements of the students, teachers and the curriculum. The department is very well equipped with a highly developed broadband Internet connection for enterprising students getting a chance to be familiar with the Internet wherein they do comprehensive research for their projects and presentations.

The department has well qualified committed teachers to teach different classes at different levels. The faculty members make incessant efforts to ensure that the students must get expertise in both theoretical and practical implementation of tools that they have in their curriculum.
